Pants, Sept. 6.-The unveiling of the statue of Lalayette took place to-day at Le Puy in the presonce of an immense crowd of people, despite a severe rain storm. The streets were decorated with American and French flags and triumphal arches were erected over the prominent avenues. Among the distinguished persons present were Mr. Morton, United States Minister to France; Mr. Sargeut, United States Minister to Germany; General Colomb and Colonel Lichtenstein, who represented President Grévy.

Mr. Morel, president of the Lafayette Memorial Committee, performed the ceremony of unveiling the statue amid the plaudits of the multitude and mintes of articlery. Senator Vissauget delivered the opening address, in which he culogized Lafayette as one of the principal authors of French liberty and characterized him as the forerunner of the French Republic. Mr. Morton followed. He said he was rejoiced to be present and assist in this tribute to the memory of the Marquis de Lafayette. He desired to express the interest of the Government and the affection felt by the citizens of the United States for the patriot who, next to Washington, had awakened the gratitude of all American hearts as an ardent of liberty. He had advocated the supremacy of the laity, and his struggle was for the establishment of constitutional freedom. Would that he could now see the noble result of his work! America had attained that splendor and prosperity which Lafayette had predicted. The nations of France and America were never more united than on this pecasion, and he hoped that the friendship which washington and Lafayette foining medical might remain forever unbroken between the two Republies.

Senator Lafayette, in a brief address, returned thanks to the Memorial Committee and to the eminent men present for the honor conferred upon the memory of his ancestor.

THE PRESIDENT'S HOMEWARD JOURNEY.

A BRIEF STOP AT PITTSBURG AND A SHORT SPEECH. PITTSBURG, Sept. 6.-The special train on which President Arthur, accompanied by Surrogate Rollins, of New-York, is returning to Washington, reached this city shortly before 9 o'clock this evening nearly an hour late. A crowd of fifteen hundred people, luding Mayor Lyon and many prominent citizens, was at the depot and cheered enthusiastically as soon as it was known that the President had arrived. A committee, headed by the Mayor, entered the car and formally welcomed the President to the city. He looked well and welcomed the President to the city. He looked well and said he had enjoyed his Western tour greatly. The train stopped only lifteen minutes, but before leaving the President stepped out on the platform, and, being introduced by the Mayor, said: "Fellow citizens of Pittsburg, I am glad, even in this hasty manner, to meet such a large number of your good people. Thanking you for your sindly greating. I will simply say that I wish for your city and its people continued prosperity in its numerous industries, and bid you good-night." These words caused renewed cheering, which continued until the train left the depot.

The programme of entertainment has not yet been determined upon, but will probably comprise banquets tendered by the State and municipal authorities, by the Bar Association and by private individuals.

A dispatch from Chicago says the Bar Association of that city has decided to tender Lord Coleridge a public panguet on mis arrival there. He is expected to visit kewport on Tuesday and remain there until Saturday.

A MISSING TEXAS MAN.

The disappearance under suspicious circumstances of Charles Lundborg, a Texau, who had been staying at Hartman's Hotel, at No. 45 Bowery, was ported at Police Headquarters last night by Mr. Hartman. Lundborg is a wealthy flour merchant Austin, where he has a wife and everal children. Last summer he went to Germany on business, and returned to this country on the steamer Fulda, which reached here last week. He went, as he always did when in this city, to Hartman's Hotel, which is next to the Windsor Theatre. He was on excellent terms with the proprietor, and an Saturday night he went to Mrs. Hartman, and pulling out a huge roll of bills, counted out $1,000, and asked her to keep it for him until Tuesday morning, when he intended starting for Texas. On Sunday he was in and out of the hotel several times. Once during the day he was observed in earnest couvernation with two men who looked, it was said, like two confidence men. On Sunday Bight he stayed in the hotel and on Monday morn ing was again seen with the two men who were with him on Sunday. After breakfast he went to Mrs. Hartmanaud asked her to give him back his money, as he had some use for it. Mrs. Hartman returned him his $1,000 and he walked out of the hotel and has not been seen or heard from since.

The missing man is forty-five years old, with dark complexion and whiskers, and is a uch tanned by his recent ocean voyage. The Hartmans are rearful that some misfortune, accidental or designed, has befallen him. All of his baggage was at the botel last evening. Captain Washburne, who was on duty at Police Headquarters, caused a general alarm to be sent out directing the police to look for the missing Texau. the missing Texan.

A NEW TELEGRAPH PROJECT. PLANS OF THE CITIZENS AND TELEGRAPHERS' COM-PANY.

The articles of incorporation of the Citizens and Telegraphers' Telegram and Cablegram Company were filed yesterday in the County Clerk's Office by Eugene J. O'Conner, of Boston. The corporators are E. J. O'Conner, Charles E. Chute and Thomas W. Greene, of Boston. The capital stock is fixed at $5,000,000 in shares of $25, and the stock may be increased for the purpose of extending the business. No person can hold over $100,000 of the stock. The company is empowered either to build new lines or buy lines already constructed. In the cities the wires are to be placed, so far as possible, underground. There is also a provision for conducting a telephone business and the acquirement of telephone property. The term fixed for the existence. of the company in fifty years. The Board of Direction will comprise thirteen members, seven of whom will be citizen and six telegraphic stockholders; the Executive Board will consist of four citizen and four telegraphic stockholders. The main office will be in New-York, with branch offices in Boston, Chicago, Washington, Caarleston, New-Orleans, San Francisco and in such other places as may be deemed desirable. Subscription books will be opened in New-York and Boston on or about September 15, and operations will be begun as soon as $200,000 has been subscribed and paid in. Work will advance only so far as subscriptions are paid in, as it is provided that no debts shall be contracted for any purpose whatever until the requisite are paid in, as it is provided that no debts shall be contracted for any purpose whatever until the requisite amount of money to pay them is collected and deposited. As a precaution against selling out, the stock will not be negotiable until the net earnings will pay a dividend of six per cent after the interest on the bonds is paid. Coupon bonds to the amount of the capital stock will be issued in denominations of from $25 to $5,000, having twenty years to run and bearing interest at six per cent, to be sold at par. Stock to the amount of bonds bought will be given to each purchaser.

Mr. O'Connor, who is in the city on business connected with the project, said to a TRIBUNE reporter: "We have received assurances of more than sufficient subscriptions to admit of our beginning work as soon as the books are open. As yet we have only three corporators, just the number sufficient to emable us to file our papers; the other ten provided for in the articles will be appointed at a meeting to be held here in the course of a week or ten days. I do not feel at liberty as yet to give the names of the capitalists both here and in floston who have promised to subscribe. We will first build or purchase a line between Nex-York and Boston, taking in all the principal towns between the two ppints. We will be extended throughout the country at as early a date as possible. We wanteipate no difficulty in getting the right of way between Nex-York and Boston. If necessary we can put up our poles just outside of the railroad property and still be within easy reach for repairs. As for the patents of the Western Union Company, we can get just as good a duplex and quadruplex system, if not a better one. I have received a large number of letters from telegraph operators throughout the country in relation to the scheme, and they will subscribe a considerable amount in a small way." a small way.

MR. HALSTEAD'S VIEW OF THE SITUATION. THE WEAKNESS OF HOADLY RUINS HIS CHANCES-THE EFFECT OF FRAUD IN CINCINNATI.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.] CINCINNATI, Sept. 6.—The political situation in Ohio will be stated by Mr. Halstead in The Commercial Gazette to-morrow in an article reading as Democratic politicians are alarmed about the state of the campaign in Ohio. Why? They have lost the campaign in Ohio. It was lost when Von Martels was elected by Hoadly votes to use the State Executive Committee in McLean's war on Pendleton, and that was before Hoadly was nominated. The organization of committees signified that the campaign was to be conducted for purposes of malicious revenge; that one of the most popular men in the State was to be slaughtered to appease an animosity backed by a monopoly. Of course this meant disorganization. The campaign was lest again by the Democrats when Hoadly again by the Democrats when Hoadly made his Hamilton speech and abused the whiskey ring to its face, in the person of Peter Schwab, and denounced the saloon-keepers as drunkard-makers, recommended the use of the iron heel of power upon them, mourned the opening of one saloon under the Scott law, and explained that the new Democracy meant the new occupation of the offices. There couldn't be any of the campaign after that, except what might be evolved from the indomitable discipline of the Democratic party, and that was wasted and wrenched by the personal use of the committees. The packing of committees at the Democratic State Convention against Pendleton for a campaign of personal revenge, instead of for the party, must have been with Headly's consent. It was done under the excuse that he must take care of himself, but the point was, he yielded fatally then and there to the aggressiveness of the proprietor of The Enquirer, and was properly paid for it the next day by the vehement opposition of the man he had sacrificed a friend to conciliate. It was an accident that Hoadly scratched the nomination, and his appearance as a candidate was followed by a few mocking Enquirer paragraphs alluding to the tender places in his political record, the publication of a private letter intended to injure him, and the playing of the "Jayhawker" game. Then followed the Alabama interview and a series of speeches by Hoadly, not devoid of the old sparkle of his wit, and the passages of lawyer talk, bright enough in themselves, but each utterance, by some fatality, scoring a political point against him.

THE WORST BLUNDER OF ALL.
"The worst blunder of all followed. It was the political machinery in this Democracy and allowing the money of Bookwalter and the malice of McLean free scope. McLean insisted upon rashing his personal hatred of Pendleton to the front, and of making the issue in the county convention whether he should not control the delegates. The power to make the decision was in Hoady's nanls, and he decided for McLean. The very man who had been for Hoady at Columbus against McLean now fixed the Committee on Credentials for McLean, and with means and methods that insured him the convention. The legislative dilution and were told that if they would give their piedge never under any circumstances to go for Pendleton, they would be nominated and it should not cost them a cent to be put through to election day. There is not a doubt that election day. There is not a doubt that the lection day. There is not a doubt that the there consented to put upon himself this shameful obligation. Those who retueed to take the piedge were not nominated. The people of Hamilton County will rebuke The Engainer combination. The very instinct it concerns Democrats. The existence of the third tricket would have a tendency to the Republican majority, for there are thousands of Democrats who will not vote for the McLean fraud, and will, when the issue is made, take the most direct means to smash the boss business, just as Republicans oil last year in the State of New York.

"The Democratic campaign in Ohio cannot be retrieved. The blundering has been irreparable. Judge Hoadly is a very sick man and out of the fight in more senses than one; and if his strength could be suddenly and miraculously restored he could not, as the events of the contest have been shaped, make a speech that would not tell against himself. Few of the friends of Pendleton and Hoadly can longer deceive themselves. Both distinguished gentlemen are politically

There was no doubt of it. While the Democracy, as a mass, believed Pendleton had made a mistake about the Civil Service Reform Law that bears his name, they despised McLean's course and abusive enmity toward him, and would vote for Pendleton as against McLean ten to one. The presumption is that Hondly's friends assumed to themselves up to this time that that they were merely allowing Pendleton to take care of himself; and at this juncture the Judge became ill. He had restrained The News Journal from attacking The Enquirer, thus sacrificing a golden opportunity for the new paper to establish itself in the consideration of the Democracy and allowing the money of Book walter

A scheme for despoiling Cincinnath by electing with the votes of repeaters the personal Legislative ticket fraudulently nominated is, with precision, all that is left of the Democratic campaign in Ohio, which was opened with such pemp and circumstance and outcries that it was to be an auspicious stride toward national supremacy; and the repeaters will be routed here, for so great a scoundrelism as they contemplated cannot be consummated when the sciemes are, as now, so flagrant as to arouse the public vigilance and turn a burning light upon the ballot boxes."

Presidents Newell and Ledyard were present in behalf of the Lake Shore and the Michigan Central respectively. The New-York Central was represented by Vice-President Hayden, and Traffic Manager R. C. Previous to reconsider was put and the vote resulted, year 21, nays the calling of the meeting to order a suggestion was made by one of the accused roads that rates be advanced. The temper of the meeting was shown and thirty-three members found present. Another vote resulted, 21 yeas and no nays. Senator Cooper then naked for too reading or Rule 33, which calls for members to be brought before the bar of the House. Further discussion prevailed, when a motion to adjourn until Monday was carried. by the reception of this suggestion, which was regarded as preposterous. There was a thorough discussion of the subject of rate-cutting, in which the representatives of the New-York Central and the Pennrepresentatives of the New-York Central and the Pennsylvania systems united in accusations against the Erie and the Grand Trunk systems. As the rates from the Southwest cut the largest figure in the discussions, the Grand Trunk was not so sharply antagonized as was the Erie. Appeals were made to the statements in the possession of Mr. Fink to show by the course of business from the West that the principal offenders were the roads in the interest of the Erie and the Grand Trunk. Counter accusations were made against connections of the New-York Central. The Erie representatives denied that their road was concerned in any cuts from the West. Part of the cutting was laid against interior roads which feed the trunk lines, but this jed to an examination of the records of business delivered by the former to the several trunk GENERAL N. M. CURTIS FOR ASSEMBLYMAN FROM ST. LAWRENCE COUNTY-DELEGATES TO RICH-GOUVERNEUR, N. Y., Sept. 6,-The Ist Assembly District Republican Convention of St. Lawrence County was held here to-day, and General N. Martinthis led to an examination of the records of business delivered by the former to the several trunk lines in order to prove by circumstantial evidence that one system was profiting to the detriment of its rival. It was emphatically urged that the trunk lines were responsible for the conduct of their Western connections and that no plea of irresponsibility should excuse a trunk line which profited by their action. Charges were made against the Pennsylvania, the creessive business of the Pan Handle route being urged as proof. The reply of the Pennsylvania officers was that the large business of the Pan Handle had been drived from its connections with fast-freight lines operating over the Eric. The meeting finally adjourned till to-day, when an attempt will be made to agree upon proposed new measures for maintaining rates and enforcing pool provisions. Assembly. These resolutions being adopted, another series, read by W. Bourke Cockran, praised the wisdom of the last State Convention in admixing the representatives of all the Democratic organizations of this city, and advised the appointment of a committee of conference by the delegates chosen by the various Assembly District conventions to meet similar committees from the other organizations, for the purpose of agreeing on such a united delegation to the State Convention as will fairly represent in that body all shades of political opinion throughout the city." This resolution was also adopted, Mr. Cockran supporting it by a brief speech, in which he stated that Irving Hall was organized "for the purpose of bringing together the fragmentary portions of what should be the majority of the voters of this city."

A Committee on Transportation was appointed, of which Sheriff Davidson was made the chairman, and it was decided to hold a meeting of the General Committee of the Hall on Wednesslay evening. The general business of this evening being concluded several lawyers and others began to discuss the Cassidy resolution, with the result that the more it was discussed the less it was understood. ession at Stratford. Who the man was is not yet positively known, but the fact that Ambler, her former husband, said after she refused to live with him that she should never marry Lewis, and the further fact that he was seen in this city on the day the murder was committed, point strongly toward him as being gmity of the colored man first suspected and held, has now been discharged.

Ambler was arrested to-day, but he succeeded in proving an aliot. He was at home in New-Mittord on Saturday and Sunday, and detectives say that he is not the man who was seen with his wife on Sanday night. A woman states that while she was returning from church on Sunday night she saw a man, answering the description of the stranger seen with a woman standing near the main road over which Rose Clark passed. The man was apparently walting for some one, and as the woman passed he tried to nide his identity. She did not know him, and thought nothing about the incident until recently. THE FIRE RECORD.

DAMAGES IN BROADWAY. A fire broke out shortly after midnight last night on the top floor of the five-storiy iron-front building at No. 520 Broadway. The flames were kept confined to the upper portion of the building by the prompt and energetic work of the firemen, who were summoned by three alarms, but considerable damage was done by the water in the lower floors.

The upper three floors were occupied by J. Moss & Co., manufacturers of men's and boys' clotning, whose loss, by fire and water, reached $10,000. On the second floor it F. Alexander, manufacturer of tallors' trimmings. His loss will probably reach $5,000, due entirely to water. Charles V. Fornes, importer of woollens, occupied the ground floor, and his stock suffered damages to about the same amount. The injury to the building was not great and will probably be repaired at an expense of $2,000. The upper three floors were occupied by J. Moss & Co.

DAMAGE TO A HAT FACTORY. The hat manufactory of Carl F. Seitz & Co., Nos. 27 to 33 Ward-st., Newark, was parily desiroyed by fire yesterday morning. The fire originated in the finishing-room, where the watchman had built a fire in povered. The firm was busy with orders, and had considerable stock on hand. About 125 employes are thrown out of employment. The loss is about $8,000, and the insurance $40,000, as follows: North American, Liverpool, London and Globe, $5,000 cach; Standard, of London, Lancashire, Northern, City of London, Lancashire, Northern, City of London, London, Hamburg and Bremen, United States and Farragut, $2,500 cach.

A STEAMSHIP IN PERIL.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 6 .- The steamship William Craue, of the Savannah Line, arrived here about noon to-day greatly damaged by fire. The ship took fire on Tuesday while off the coast of South Carolina, and it was only after the most strenuous exertions that the officers and crew succeeded in extinguishing the flames, and then not until the suip and cargo had been damaged to an amount estimated at from $10,000 to $15,000. The fact that the hull of the vessel was of iron saved her from destruction.
